JinkoSolar Announces Additional 100 MW Solar Module Supply Agreement with Enfinity

SHANGHAI, October 20, 2010: JinkoSolar Holding Co., Ltd. (“JinkoSolar” or the “Company”) (NYSE: JKS), a fast-growing solar product manufacturer with low-cost operations based in China, today announced that it has signed a supply agreement with Enfinity Asia Pacific Limited which is wholly owned by Enfinity N.V. (“Enfinity”), a global renewable energy developer. Under the terms of the agreement, JinkoSolar will supply Enfinity with 100 megawatts (“MW”) of JinkoSolar branded solar photovoltaic (“PV”) modules throughout the year of 2011.

Gino Van Neer, Enfinity’s Asia-Pacific Chief Executive Officer, commented, “We are very pleased to have extended our partnership with JinkoSolar as the company has continuously delivered superior quality modules, timely product deliveries and excellent after sales services. Our long-term cooperation with JinkoSolar is an important part of our success, as its modules will be utilized in several of our solar projects in Europe and North America.”

“Following the first contract with Enfinity in the early second half of 2010, this additional contract is the result of our continuous commitment in providing high-quality modules and dedicated after sales services to our customers,” said Xiande Li, Chairman of the Board of Directors at JinkoSolar. “We are very pleased that Enfinity has recognized our efforts and chosen JinkoSolar branded modules for its additional global solar projects. We believe this further cooperation will enhance JinkoSolar’s business expansion efforts and worldwide presence while enabling both companies to attract new opportunities.”

About Enfinity

Enfinity is one of the largest companies within the renewable energy sector and focuses on three main areas: project development (review of project viability), feasibility study and procuring investment funds and project construction, including post-construction asset management. Enfinity has already installed more than 200 MW solar PV projects worldwide and is currently developing, building and financing solar PV projects with a total capacity of 2.8 gigawatts. Enfinity’s 2009 revenues topped more than US$300 million, and it has recently consolidated its international position as a global player with a $64 million investment from Waterland as well as an additional US$57 million of capital raised to accelerate its strategic expansion.
